Brinks Gilson & Lione Patent Attorney Jason Schigelone Moderates Fee-Shifting Roundtable at IP Strategy Summit

October 20, 2016

CHICAGO—Jason Schigelone, a patent attorney at intellectual property law firm Brinks Gilson & Lione, will be a featured presenter at Centerforce’s third annual IP Strategy Summit on November 8, 2016 at the Swissotel Chicago.

Schigelone will host the roundtable workshop “Fee-Shifting Strategies In Patent Cases,” an informal and interactive 15-minute discussion in which in-house IP counsel exchange professional insights with their peers. The session brings together conference attendees in a confidential, dynamic, cross-industry group to learn from each other’s experiences and discuss common themes.

Schigelone focuses his practice on patent prosecution and litigation in a range of technical areas, with an emphasis on patents in the chemical, medical, and mechanical arts. He has represented global clients in numerous patent infringement matters including Hatch-Waxman cases, and has deep experience in litigation relating to cardiovascular and interventional medical device patents.

Brinks is a sponsor of The IP Strategy Summit: Chicago. The conference brings together in-house IP counsel and other thought leaders to network and to learn about recent changes to the IP landscape and their impact on portfolio strategy.
